A SUPERUSCHI show curated by Jonny Star

A kitchen is more than just the room for self-supply. Familiar orchestrations can develop and degenerate here, a variety of objects geared to a certain use change their functions and last but not least here food plays an important role, too. An ordinary kitchen show only rudimentarily presages what Jonny Star this evening alongside six other artists explicitly parades through a variety of artistic media.

There is delicious soup and drinks at the bar.
It will be certainly a very special evening and we look forward to sharing it with you!
